Norris Public Power District Warns Customers of Phone Scam Involving Demands for Electric Bill Payment

Norris Public Power District is warning customers of a phone scam. Norris Representatives have received notification from customers that they have received phone calls from an unknown source claiming to be from a utility company and then employing a variety of techniques to defraud customers. Norris customers have reported that callers have threatened them with disconnecting electric service to their home or business, if they don't make a payment immediately.

As a business practice, Norris does not contact customers and ask for a payment over the phone. Norris customers who receive such a call should not attempt to make any payment and contact Norris at 1-800-858-4707 to report the request. Customers are encouraged to contact local law enforcement about any suspicious calls demanding immediate payment of their electric bill.
